Boston, July 9.—The hearing of Pat Ragan, the Braves' pitcher, who was summoned before the local board of District E, Brighton, last night, to get a decision on the receast "work or fight" order, as it affects professional ball players, was filled with surprises and arguments.

Ragan and the case was statended to settle the question for the entire tentile of the continuous proposed and of Cooksey to win by three lengths.

Ragan and the case was statended to settle the question for the cutier entire.

It was found that Ragan had not registered under the draft law, as he had at that time exceeded the age limit, No action could, therefore, be taken in his individual case and unatters regarding the club remain virtually as they were.
